Karen Schutt

Your best choice for seeking investment opportunities

I'd like to introduce myself. I am Karen Schutt, the new Investment Director for ProColombia's United States office. With my expertise in investment strategy and commitment to fostering successful collaborations, I am poised to drive impactful partnerships between our organizations.

I have a deep understanding of the Colombian market and a passion for promoting economic growth that will be an invaluable asset to ProColombia. I invite you to connect with me at kschutt@procolombia.co to explore potential areas of cooperation and discuss how we can strengthen business ties between the United States and Colombia.

I am hopeful my contributions will lead to fruitful outcomes for all parties involved.
